

In which countries is video identification available?

You can perform the video identification from anywhere in the world as long as you have a good network service for a high-quality video session and a good mobile phone signal.

